

Silverware

In the days of forefathers, Spoons and Forks were strictly utensils. Spoons of one sort or the other, were generally used—but Forks are so modern that few possessed them in the days of the American colonies, and the majority did not know their use. That Spoons and forks should possess beauty of line or have artistic merit in design was not in those days a matter of concern.

Spoons and Forks

are now considered an important factor in one's table appointments and great care should be given to the selection of a pattern. This is as it should be.

Our patterns are the work of skilled designers and offered in sufficient variety to satisfy every taste and in weights to meet every demand.

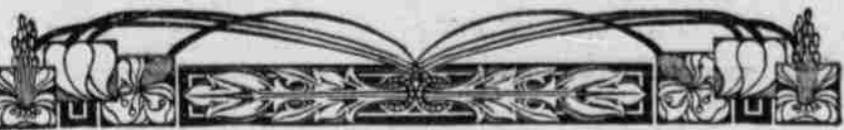

We desire to show you a beautiful stock from which to make your selections.

In the meantime citizens who are willing to pay for the water they use are having metres placed regardless of what the future may bring forth.

Julius Pizer leaves this week for New York City to lay in his supply of fall and winter goods for The Leader, expecting to be absent about three weeks.

Miss Elaine Bundy, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dee Raney, of Wallace, for three weeks, returned home Saturday evening. She was accompanied by Mrs. Raney.

The Hendy & Ogier company is receiving drills and lathes for their new work shop which will be in the rear part of the second floor of the building into which they are now moving.

Messrs. Sadle and Burnett, of the south side are marketing their wheat this week, and are receiving sixty-seven cents per bushel on cars. The wheat run from fifteen to seventeen bushels per acre, not a very heavy yield, but better than a complete failure.

During his visit in Hastings last Friday Julius Pizer experienced a temperature of unusual severity, street thermometers registering 114 in the shade. The heat was most oppressive and Mr. Pizer was almost overcome. He says that corn around Hastings is practically a total loss.

Mrs. Dr. V. Lucas and mother, Mrs. O. B. Fraser, left Sunday night for Palsade, Colo., to visit Mrs. Frazier's daughter, Mrs. C. A. Day. Mrs. Fraser will return via Cheyenne and visit a daughter, while Mrs. Lucas will stay until Dr. Lucas joins her for a hunting trip in the mountains.

Henry Hahn, living southwest of town, said Saturday that his corn was a long ways from being "dead;" in fact he thinks his crop is still in good condition. "There is corn in our neighborhood that has been damaged," said Mr. Hahn, "but it is largely due to the lack of cultivation during the growing season."

Mr. Pizer leaves for New York this week to make his selections, having delayed his trip until he was assured that all the fall fashions would be agreed upon and would be on display and the manufacturers ready to fill orders. Ladies are advised to not be in haste in selecting their fall garments; they can well afford to await the arrival of The Leader's stock. Not only will they secure the latest effects and styles, but prices will be so low as to be startling.

THE MUTUAL BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION.

The assets of this association exceed the sum of half a million dollars. The reduction of the rate of interest to borrowers has increased the demand for loans; and in order to meet this demand the association will issue a limited amount of its PAID UP STOCK.

Money invested in this paid up stock draws six per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and may be withdrawn at any time upon thirty days notice, such notice being waived where there are funds in the treasury to meet the withdrawal.

CRYSTAL THEATRE

Tuesday's Program

In "The Last of the Madisons," Herbert Brennon has given us a story of love and feud among mountaineers. It has been worked up originally and has some very strong scenes. Jane Fearnley, as Madison's daughter, and Will Shea as her beau, whose family her father hates, have the romantic roles, while Matt Snyder and Mrs. Walker, a vindictive old couple play the girl's parents.

"While the Children Slept," here is an interesting children's picture, and what pleases children usually pleases the older ones, too. There is enough comedy to entertain all.

"Comrades," is a Nestor release of July 30th.

Wednesday Program

"Baron Binks' Bride," is an Imp farce of queen characters set in Jayville.

"The Grit of Gringo" has plenty of action and the Mexican setting is good.

"The Actor," Edwin August plays a strong part in this story of the actor who obtains a chance on Broadway only to have it withdrawn because of the fear of the manager that he cannot carry the big scene. He stages a quarrel with a friend, in plain view of a man whose word means so much to him. The big scene is thrilling on the screens well as for the manager, who of course, re-engages the actor. Mary Charleston plays the part of the actor's wife.

Thursday's Program

"The Fallen Angel," is a two-reel Rex, released July 24.

"College Chums," shows how forgetful men are. Chester Barnet and Joe Belmont invite their lady friends to go to a concert but they become so interested in a ball game that they forget the concert. Come and see how they make amends.

Gene Combs, of Lincoln, has been in town for several days, coming here to transact business and investigate crop conditions. He says he has been out in the cornfields southeast of town and thinks the condition is not as bad as depicted. "A whole lot of fellows," says Mr. Combs, "has been crying louder than the condition warrant. With rain within a week or so Lincoln county will have lots of corn."

THE LEADER,
JULIUS PIZER.

Local and Personal.

Dr. L. C. Drost and family returned last week from their auto trip to points in Iowa which covered about two thousand miles. They took with them a tent, cooking utensils and bedding, and spent the night wherever night overtook them. This made a real outing for them and one that was thoroughly enjoyed. Outside of more or less tire trouble the car did good work.

The ball team left this morning for Eustis, where they will play the Orleans team this afternoon. The Orleans team is a very strong aggregation of ball players, having defeated several of the strongest amateur teams in the state. Upon their return the team will go to Scotts Bluffs where they will play tomorrow and Thursday, and Friday and Saturday they will play the team at Gering.

The Grand Island Independent of Saturday said: The hope of some of the farmers who still expected to get a corn crop around here were shattered by the terrible hot wind of yesterday and today which put the finishing touches to many of the damaged fields. At William Thomassen's place the government thermometer registered 106½, while thermometers about the city went up as high as 112.

Palestine Commandery of this city, while not attending in a body, will be well represented at the Knights Templar conclave at Denver this week. A general order has been issued by the railroad company to the effect that as far as possible, all specials this week will be in charge of conductors who are members of some commandery. These together with the other local members and many out of town members who will go directly from their homes, will make a very good showing for North Platte. Advance information from Denver indicates that the city will be beautifully decorated for this occasion.

The city and individuals have spent more than $200,000.00 for decorations. Many beautiful prizes have been offered, the chief one being a sterling silver punch bowl and individual cups, costing $5000.00.
